

Taiwan Science and Technology Hub

The Taiwan S&T Hub office was established in 2023, dedicated to fostering bilateral communication between Taiwanese and Silicon Valley with a focus on Science and Technology.

Our primary objective of the Taiwan S&T Hub is to facilitate the collaboration of Taiwan and the US academic and entrepreneurial communities, starting with Silicon Valley. Our programs include a postdoctoral fellowship program at Stanford, an annual symposium, seminars and networking events. Stanford University is Taiwan S&T Hub's first partner to help facilitate collaborative activities between Taiwan and the US in scientific research, academics, innovation, and education and workforce development.
